

In spring 2013, the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities Year Three Peer-Evaluation (virtual) resulted in the following commendation:

The evaluators commend Skagit Valley College for its high level of technology support to its students and particularly the involvement and training of students through that service.

The Commission amended the peer-evaluation report to include the following recommendation:

The evaluation committee recommends that for each year of operation, the College undergo an external financial audit.